ACCOUNT OPTIONS AND CUSTOMISATION

We have now included several theme choices to change the look of the TX Markets app.

You can access the account settings options by clicking on your account name on the top right of the screen and choosing “settings”. This will bring you to this screen. On the image below we have indicated where you can find the available theme choices. We have also highlighted the colour pickers for odds moving up and down so that you may customise those to your own preference.

Once you have made your choices, click “save”.

In the image below we can see the colour picker option when active.

The “odds comparison” tab offers various options for customising TX markets further.

The screenshot shows the TX Markets Odds Comparison settings interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links like Upcoming, Market Moves, Changes, Arbs, Top, Screen Odds, and Reports. Below the navigation is a search bar with the text "arsenal / pren" and a magnifying glass icon. There are also icons for the United Kingdom and Italy flags, and a user profile icon.

The main area has tabs for Account, Odds Comparison (which is selected), and My Books. Under the Odds Comparison tab, there are several configuration sections:

- Odds Sort Order: A dropdown menu set to "Home Odds".
- Average Chart Data Points: A dropdown menu set to "100".
- Odds Changes: A dropdown menu set to "20".
- Checkboxes: A list of checked items:
  - Odds Average Price Chart
  - Match Previews
  - OCI Reports
  - Live Odds Changes
  - Recent Matches
  - Match Arbs
  - Injuries
  - Weather Forecast

UPCOMING

The Upcoming page gives us a rapid snapshot of upcoming events, and is the first page you see once logged in. There is a dropdown menu from Upcoming that gives you options for today, yesterday, the next eight days or all available.

As well as the information displayed from the default view, we can easily filter for specifics.

The top search bar with the blue magnifying glass allows us to search for teams and leagues. Team names should be typed in, and all matches corresponding to that team name will show up. For leagues, we begin with "fb" for football, then the country code (eng, for England, as an example), and then the league in question. So, here are some examples;

English Premier League : /eng p

Spanish La Liga : /spa p

German Bundesliga : /ger b

The area to the left and below the top menu helps us filter searches through a calendar, by sport, through context-aware search, by match times, by calendar options and by OCI reports.

Upcoming screen when viewing Soccer

When viewing soccer matches on the upcoming page, we are presented with an overview of ;

- Match Odds
- Asian Handicap
- Over/Under odds
- Match Odds Percentage
- Market Moves up and down
- Odds Change Index (OCI)

Upcoming screen when viewing other sports

When viewing all other sports in the Upcoming page, we are offered:

- Match Odds
- Match Odds Percentage
- Market Moves up and down
- Odds Change Index (OCI)

As we can see in the Tennis example below, all available odds types are displayed in line with the nature of the sport in question. The plain text odds values are, as with soccer, in plain text, while current odds are displayed with the blue and red numbers that indicate odds coming in or drifting.

MARKET MOVES

The Market Moves page gives you access to a wealth of data on a huge range of fixtures in one area. When you click on Market Moves from the top menu, a dropdown will give you the option of which market to view.

A lot of the page columns are abbreviated to save space and give us more information on one screen, but these do have a tooltip that will give you an expanded description if you hover over them.

The Market Moves screen

As you can see below, we have a screen alive with information. The yellow flashes you can see on some rows are the latest odds changes updating on-screen.

Please note that the top menu search bar will always take you back to the “Upcoming” page with whatever matches get returned from a search conducted there.

The screenshot shows a table of football fixtures from various leagues. The columns include time, fixture ID, group, match details, and numerous odds and statistics columns. Some rows are highlighted in yellow, indicating recent market movements. The top navigation bar includes links for Upcoming, Market Moves, Changes, Arbs, Top, Screen Odds, and Reports. A search bar at the top right contains the text "arsenal/prem". The bottom of the table has a footer row with various numerical values.

One handy feature is the search box that is specific to Market Moves, which is on the top right of the table. If you enter the date you are interested in, for instance 10/08, the table will update with just that date's games.

You can also add the time, so if you wanted to see the first round of Saturday 3pm games of the Premiership, you could search “10/08 15:00”.

We can search for leagues in the same search bar too – if we type in ENG CHAMP we will be given a list of all the market moves on games from the English Championship.

With any of the columns, we can click and re-order. For instance, clicking in the “time” column takes us from a mixed time output to a re-ordered table. Now the nearest kick off times go top. Click again and the last games that have open markets will be listed first.

This principle applies across all of the columns. We recommend taking a few minutes to click through and seeing how each column gets re-ordered.

OCI pop-up reports

In the “r” column, if you see an exclamation mark icon, you can pick up an OCI report on this fixture, as shown in the image below. It will appear in a pop-up window over the main page.

The pop-up window displays the following information:

- Fixture: Lugano-Dynamo Kiev
- Competition: FBECLUEFA Europa League > Group Stage-19
- Date: 2019-10-03 20:00
- Reason: FORM + VENUE
- Text: Lugano have lost 8 of their last 10 games in all competitions and lie 9th out of 10 in the Swiss Premier League. They were beaten 1-0 at home by Neuchatel Xamax at the weekend – the side who were previously bottom. This match will be played 250km from Lugano and they will be without Bottani (mf 5/0) and possibly Daprela (df 7/0).
- Dynamo Kiev: have won all of their last 4 matches without conceding a goal. No important players missing, though doubts over Shepelev (mf 7/0). Likely to pick a strong team.
- Starting odds: 2.72 3.13 2.60
- Current odds: 3.52 3.31 2.08

CHANGES

The Changes page gives you a snap shot from the last 5 minutes showing which games have had the most odds changes. We can search for specifics in the search bar to the top right of this table. The following information is included in the table;

- Number of odds changes
- Current home/draw/away odds
- Average home/draw/away odds
- Opening home/draw/away odds

The columns to the right show opening prices (o), average prices during the last five minutes (a) and average prices at the start of the current five minute window (f).

The screenshot shows a table of odds changes from the TXMarkets website. The table has columns for time, group, match, n, oh, od, oa, aoh, aod, aoa, foh, fod, and foa. The table lists numerous football matches across different leagues and tournaments, with their respective odds and change statistics.

TOP

This screen can be used to check if a bookmaker has a very different opinion compared to another bookmaker or to the market or average odds.

There are 3 main columns:

- odds for the currently selected bookmaker in the "against" selection box (on the right) or average if "avg" is selected
- probabilities (ph=home probability, pd=draw, pa=away)
- these are 100% probabilities derived from the currently selected bookmaker's

Odds are displayed on the left. When "avg" is selected then average probabilities are used instead.

- expectations: probability * bookmaker's price (eh=ph*oh)

The screenshot shows a web-based odds comparison tool. At the top, there are navigation links for 'Upcoming', 'Market Moves', 'Changes', 'Arbs', 'Top', 'Screen Odds', and 'Reports'. A search bar contains 'arsenal /prem' and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar are icons for the United Kingdom flag and a user profile. Below the header, there are two dropdown menus: 'avg' on the left and 'against' on the right, both set to 'William Hill'. There are also date pickers for '2019-10-02' and '2019-10-02'. A 'Search:' input field is present. The main content is a table with the following columns: time, group, teams, oh, od, oa, ph, pd, pa, eh, ed, ea, be. The table lists numerous football matches with their respective odds and probabilities.

We can filter the different types of market through the top dropdown menu (Arbs). This covers 3-way, 2-way, totals and Asian Handicap.

Once loaded, we see the fixture date, competition league and fixture. Across from those are the bookmakers offering each part of the arbitrage opportunity. Beyond that you will see the rate of return expressed as a decimal value (the thresholds for which can be set in the Min Arb/Max Arb boxes on the top left of the table).

Clicking on the last icon to the right of the Arbs table will bring up alternative arbitrage options. This lists results with different bookmakers, and the resulting rate of return.

We can set our Arbs page to work with a selection of bookmakers. We detail how to create a "My Books" list in the "Screen Odds" section of this guide. Once complete, this and any other custom "My Books" list that have been created can be accessed from the twirl-down menu on the top left of the Arbitrage table.

Arbitrage opportunities often contain a combination of different markets. For example, you may bet the home team -0.5 goals on the Asian handicap with one bookmaker, then bet the draw and the away with other firms.

It is worth noting that not all bookmakers are listed for specific customers, due to geo-blocking. For example, Bodog88 only allow customers from Asian countries, so there is no point in European customers considering them for arbitrage opportunities.

Typical arbs screen

Below is a screenshot of a typical offering when considering all bookmakers available.

Below the search bar, there are two dropdown menus: 'All My Books' and 'My Books', with the value '2' selected. There's also a 'Max Arb' filter set to '1.05' and a 'Min Arb' filter set to '1.00'.

The main area is a table listing arbitrage opportunities. The columns are labeled: 'time', 'league', 'teams', '1', 'X', '2', 'r', and 'l'. The table contains numerous rows, each representing a different bet opportunity with details like the time, league, teams involved, odds for each outcome, and the risk/reward ratio (r/l).

MY BOOKS SETUP

The screen odds page allows you to pick an event and then get an overview of what a selection of bookmaker prices look like against each other.

If we first go into our account settings, we can specify a group of bookmakers to cross-reference.

First, we will create a New Profile.

...and call it “Bookmaker group 1”.

Then, in the “My Books” tab, we will select our bookmakers. You can scroll or search for your preferred bookmakers.

Once you're happy with your selection, hit "save". You can see your selected bookmakers and amend this list in the "MY BOOKS" tab.

The screenshot shows the TX MARKETS software interface. At the top, there's a navigation bar with links like 'Upcoming', 'Market Moves', 'Changes', 'Arbs', 'Top', 'Screen Odds', and 'Reports'. Below the navigation is a search bar with the text 'arsenal / pren' and a magnifying glass icon. To the right of the search bar is a small British flag icon. Further right are user profile icons. The main area is titled 'My Books'. On the left, under 'Bookmakers', there's a dropdown menu showing 'Betfair, Betsson Exchange, Marathonbet, Nordicbet, ...'. On the right, under 'Selections', there's a list of odds from various bookmakers: Betfair, Betsson Exchange, Marathonbet, Nordicbet, Paddy Power, PinnBet, Singapore, Sportsbet.co.za, Unibet.co.uk, William Hill, and Winga.it. Each item in the list has a small 'x' icon to its right. At the bottom left of the main area is a blue 'Save' button.

We can add as many profiles as is required – allowing us to tailor the ways in which we cross-reference the odds of different bookmakers.

SCREEN ODDS

Now that the bookmaker list is set up, click on “Screen Odds” from the top menu. This will bring up a simple screen with “Add New Group” as our only option. Clicking on this will allow us to filter for the competition of interest – In this example we go to ENG CHAMP to bring up the English Championship.

Once selected we see the fixtures in question, with the prices offered from each bookmaker from our “MY BOOK” profile. We can filter different market conditions using the filter options above left of the fixtures.

We can also get a fast overview of the odds history from a given bookmaker by hovering over the price of interest. The odds then appear in a tooltip.

The screenshot shows a table of football odds for the FBENG Championship Regular Season-1. The table has columns for time, match, and several bookmakers' odds. A tooltip is visible for a specific odds value in the Betfair column, showing historical data for that bet.

REPORTS

The reports page is where we can read and filter for OCI reports and match previews from the TX Markets sports data analyst team.

The OCI reports seek to establish context to explain why a market might be moving in a particular way, and can take in reasons and circumstances including;

- Form
- Team injuries, returning players, suspensions
- Head to head record
- Motivation
- Home advantage
- Team quality

The TX Markets previews take in a variety of sports and give an in-depth look at the event in question, and provides insight into where the market value may lie.

Market Move On Queretaro (OCI 33.16)
Reason: AWAY RECORD & H2H
Top-flight Queretaro need a good result after a couple of losses in a row. Have already lost 2 of 3 group games in the Cup and will try to lift the mood with a decent result in this game despite some changes in the side expected. Have won 4 out of 5 meetings against this opponent. No team news available.
Second-division Mineros de Zacatecas already have 2 wins in the group stage of the Copa MX and can afford to lose the game and still qualify for the next stage if they win their final group game. Have been poor on the road for quite a while (W1 D4 L6). No team news available.

ODDS COMPARISON PAGE FOR A MATCH

Getting to the odds comparison page for a match

Clicking on a fixture from any of the screens on TX Markets (apart from Screen Odds) brings you to the odds comparison page for a match.

This area brings a wealth of information:

- Odds history by bookie
  - Odds history graph
  - Recent Matches selector (H2H, Home/Away/Both)
  - OCI History Graph
  - Weather Forecast
  - Arbs
  - Live odds changes

With each of the Odds and OCI history graphs, we can select a portion of the graph and zoom in for greater detail. Clicking again brings the graph back to the original overall view.

Display odds changes from a specific bookmaker

In the right hand corner above the table we have the distance that the away team must travel for the fixture, and the date and time of the fixture.

If we hover over a bookmaker, recent odds changes are displayed, as seen in the example below;

The dropdown menus above the odds data on the left allow us to change market types. The search bar allows us to highlight on bookmaker and put them to the top of the list.

Previous matches screen

Clicking on a specific team from the fixture participants at the top of the page shows;

- Full form history (Green = win, grey = draw, red = loss)
- Any previous OCI reports
- Upcoming games
- Links to Odds Comparison pages for previous games

The screenshot shows a table of football fixtures from TX MARKETS. The columns are: time, group, home team, away team, and result. The table includes fixtures from various leagues and competitions, such as FBENG Premier League, FBECUP Club Friendlies, and FBENG Community Shield. The home and away teams are color-coded: Liverpool is consistently shown in green, while other teams like Norwich City, Schalke 04, Manchester City, Lyon, Napoli, Sporting Lisboa, Sevilla, Borussia Dortmund, Bradford, Tranmere, Liverpool, Tottenham, Wolves, Barcelona, Newcastle, Liverpool, Barcelona, Huddersfield, Cardiff City, Liverpool, FC Porto, and Liverpool are shown in various shades of grey, red, or green.
